Joy Is The Journey discussion set for October 15

I'm pleased to be offering a free informal discussion, "Joy Is The Journey", at the Peoria Public Library North from 2 - 3:30 PM on Sunday, October 15. The discussion focuses on a spiritual approach to making peace with life changes, based on both Eastern and Western principles, including those offered in the profound and spiritual thought system presented in A Course in Miracles.

The only requirements for attending this session are an open mind and a willingness to perceive things differently in an effort to live more joyfully in the present.

To RSVP for the session, please contact the Peoria Public Library by Thursday, October 12 at 309.497.2143 or email: programmingdept@ppl.peoria.lib.il.us.

Personal notecards say it the best

Does anyone ever get over that uplifting feeling when you receive a personal, handwritten notecard through the snail mail? I know I don't. That's why I enjoy creating notecards with all kinds of images, including this latest notecard of one of my recent paintings. I can put anything on the front of my notecards including your name, Happy Birthday, Get Well, Thinking of You, and Congratulations, just to name a few. My packets of 10 notecards are $26.95 each, which you can conveniently purchase through PayPal on the HeartART page of my website at www.SuzetteBoulais.com.
